BOWFIRE, THE UNIQUE MUSICAL AND THEATRICAL EXPERIENCE
TO PLAY THE EISEMANN CENTER IN RICHARDSON, TEXAS
FOR ONE PERFORMANCE ONLY ON MARCH 5, 2011

RICHARDSON, TX – The string performance ensemble BOWFIRE is pleased to announce a show at the Eisemann Center in Richardson, Texas on Saturday, March 5, 2011 at 8:00 pm as part of their North American Tour. The show is back by popular demand after a sold-out appearance in the Eisemann Center Presents 2004-05 Season.

From the traditional fiddle and violin to the exotic Chinese erhu, BOWFIRE has been impressing audiences worldwide since forming in 2000 and continues to do so with hundreds of live show dates each season. An ensemble of world-renowned musicians takes the audience on a journey that moves seamlessly from Jazz to Classical to Bluegrass to Celtic to Rock to World Music. The unique combination of master musicians, choreography and vocals is complemented by stunning costumes and set design. Creator and artistic director Lenny Solomon says, “When you put the best string players from around the world together on stage something magical happens. We are changing people’s perception of what a stringed instrument can do.”

“BOWFIRE blurred individual traditions in the fast-paced onslaught of top-flight playing... Everything I heard was slick, well-produced and well-played. Nothing was overdone. There was enough razzle-dazzle and variety to keep the audience entertained...”
